The rule states that lawyers must directly supervise their assistants and are responsible for their assistants’ conduct.⁴

2015 Update: The University of Alaska at Anchorage offers ABA-approved programs for Associate, Bachelor, and Post-Baccalaureate degrees in legal studies. It is not uncommon for employers to require their paralegals to have one of these degrees and/or certification with NFPA, NALA, or NALS, but so far there is no state-wide requirement or licensing. Definition

Amended and Restated Bylaws of the Rocky Mountain Paralegal Association: A Paralegal is a person qualified through education, training or work experience to perform substantive legal work that requires knowledge of legal concepts and is customarily, but not exclusively, performed by a lawyer. This qualified person may be retained or employed in a traditional capacity by a lawyer, law office, government agency, or other entity or is authorized by administrative, statutory or court authority to perform this work; or this qualified person may be retained or employed in a non-traditional capacity, provided that such non-traditional capacity does not violate applicable unauthorized practice of law statutes, administrative laws, court rules, or case law.

Colorado Bar Association: Legal assistants (also known as paralegals) are a distinguishable group of persons who assist attorneys in the delivery of legal services. Through formal education, training and experience, legal assistants have knowledge and expertise regarding the legal system and substantive and procedural law, which will qualify them to do work of a legal nature under the direct supervision of a licensed attorney.¹⁷

Guidelines for the Utilization of Paralegals were originally drafted by the Legal Assistant Committee (now Paralegal Committee) of the Colorado Bar Association and formally approved by the Board of Governors in July 1986. The first revision was approved in 1998. The Colorado Bar Association Paralegal Committee completed its second revision, update, and attorney review, and the proposed Guidelines were reviewed by the Colorado Supreme Court Office of Attorney Regulation Counsel for the unauthorized practice of law. The Guidelines were formally approved by the Colorado Bar Association Board of Governors at their meeting on May 17, 2008 and include descriptions for different types of paralegals (i.e. litigation, environmental, etc.).¹⁹

Regulation History

2016: Colorado does not have paralegal regulation or licensure at this time. It was brought to the attention of James Coyle, Regulation Counsel, several years ago during a meeting with members of RMPA. Mr. Coyle indicated that there was no interest in regulation or licensing of paralegals for several reasons including (a) paralegals are supervised by attorneys; (b) no funds to establish an oversight office/committee; and (c) the CO Sup Ct did not believe it necessary/relevant.

There is a subcommittee of the Colorado Bar Association, comprised mostly of attorneys, representatives of CU and DU Law Schools, Department Chair for Arapahoe Community College, and not more than four paralegals examining the LLLT to determine if that type of program can be undertaken here in CO (see RMPA Inside Reports, March 2016 for more details).

In May 2015 Loren Brown, Esq., then-chair of the Colorado Bar Association, decided to put several CBA Committees, including the Paralegal Committee, on hiatus. Mr. Brown cited the costs and resources required by the CBA to support the Paralegal Committee as well as declining enrollment. The CBA Paralegal Committee was officially shuttered July 1, 2015. ²²

2015: Connecticut Judicial Branch is considering whether to permit limited non-lawyer practice by trained and certified laypersons to provide legal assistance to individuals of limited means (similar to Washington's Limited License Legal Technicians).

2013: Report to the Connecticut Judicial Branch Access to Justice Commission (February 15, 2013).²⁵

2011: HB 6477 – An Act Concerning the Unauthorized Practice of Law by Notaries Public and the Outsourcing of Drafting, Review or Analysis of Legal Documents was referred to the Joint Committee on Judiciary on 2/24/11 and a public hearing was held on 4/8/2011. At the request of the Connecticut Alliance of Paralegal Association, NFPA prepared a response to this proposed regulation which can be found at the attached website link under Public Hearing Testimony. While the intent was to prohibit “Notorios” from practicing law and outsourcing of legal work, the legislation, as proposed, had a far greater impact on the paralegal profession in Connecticut. HB 6477 died in committee.²⁶²⁷

2009 – HB-6138 – An Act Concerning the Licensing of Paralegals, died in General Law Committee. ²⁸

1993: Bill (HB 5827 introduced into the state legislature providing for the state to develop licensing procedures for nonattorney operated legal document processing businesses. Defeated.

Registered Paralegal Program (voluntary program through The Florida Bar). The Florida Registered Paralegal Program is not a certifying program, but a voluntary registration program administered by the Florida Bar.³⁵

Voluntary Certification through Paralegal Association (Paralegal Association of Florida, Inc.): Florida Certified Paralegal (FCP) designation - is administered by Florida's only statewide paralegal association, the PAF. This is a state-specific examination for Florida Paralegals who seek to further distinguish themselves as specialists in Florida law. A prerequisite to taking this examination is having already achieved the designation of CLA/CP/ACP, RP or PP. Successful completion of this Florida-law specific certification examination entitles the paralegal to include the designation of Florida Certified Paralegal (FCP) after his/her name to distinguish them as obtaining an advanced level of competence of Florida law.³⁶

Regulation History

March 2011: HB 1149 (sponsor: Representative Steinberg) and SB 1612 (sponsored by Senator Richter) propose mandatory licensure of the paralegal profession. Detailed bills proposed by Florida Alliance of Paralegal Association stripped to bare bones from original proposal to allow oversight board to draft rules without return to legislature. Bills also introduced during tea-party governor's "no new regulation" initiative and died in Civil Justice and Judiciary committees.³⁷³⁸

On November 15, 2007, the Supreme Court of Florida adopted a voluntary program for the registration of paralegals meeting the established standard of education creating Chapter 20 of the Rules Regulating the Florida Bar. The Florida Registered Paralegal Program became effective March 1, 2008, at 12:01 a.m.³⁹⁴⁰

In September 2006, the South Florida Paralegal Association (SFPA) objected to the Florida Bar's proposal for regulating paralegals as the proposed plan for registration is not mandatory, among other issues. SFPA participated in the oral argument held at the Florida Supreme Court in April 2007.⁴¹ SFPA established a website for the purpose of monitoring the proposal.⁴²

On June 2, 2006, the FL Bar Board of Governors approves proposed Rule 20 drafted by its Special Committee to Study Paralegal Regulation to establish the Florida Registered Paralegal program. It expects to be filed with the Supreme Court of Florida in August 2006 for final action.

April 2006 - The Florida Bar derailed the bills that would have placed paralegals under the oversight of the state Department of Business and Professional Regulation by creating the Committee to Study Paralegal Regulation. No forward movement on drafting an acceptable Rule prompts Senator Argenziano and Representative Zapata to re-submit the Paralegal Profession Act in the 2006

July 2014: NFPA issues letter supporting review and expansion of New Jersey Rule of Professional Conduct 5.3 to include more specific information with regard to the paralegal profession as petitioned by the South Jersey Paralegal Association.

November 2010: South Jersey Paralegal Association launched a voluntary paralegal certification program bestowing the New Jersey Certified Paralegal (NJCP) credential on those who meet the standard of formal education and/or paralegal experience as outlined in their plan, and who are also members of their association. Continued compliance requires completion of CLE credits, and a biennial renewal.⁹¹ Complete application documents and a list of NJCP paralegals.⁹²

In June 2003, the State Bar's Board of Trustees met to discuss a registration proposal from the Bar's Paralegal Committee and ultimately asked the Supreme Court to review and issue a recommendation on the Bar's ability to oversee paralegals.

1999: The New Jersey Supreme Court denied a proposal from its special committee calling for the mandatory licensing of paralegals; however, it encouraged local associations to consider the development of a credentialing system.⁹³

In the early 1990s a state Supreme Court committee called for paralegal licensure but the state bar objected stating that the process was unnecessarily burdensome. In 1998, the New Jersey Supreme Court Committee on Paralegal Education and Regulation issued a report with its recommendations as to goals, standards and ethics for paralegals. The Committee's recommendations were defeated by the Supreme Court in 1999. The Court held that lawyers, not the court, are responsible for supervising paralegals and that any credentialing or standards should be worked out from within the profession.

Comment

[1] Lawyers generally employ assistants in their practice, including secretaries, investigators, law student interns, and paraprofessionals. Such assistants, whether employees or independent contractors, act for the lawyer in rendition of the lawyer's professional services. A lawyer must give such assistants appropriate instruction and supervision concerning the ethical aspects of their employment, particularly regarding the obligation not to disclose information relating to representation of the client, and should be responsible for their work product. The measures employed in supervising nonlawyers should take account of the fact that they do not have legal training and are not subject to professional discipline.

[2] Paragraph (a) requires lawyers with managerial authority within a law firm to make reasonable efforts to establish internal policies and procedures designed to provide reasonable assurance that nonlawyers in the firm will act in a way compatible with the Rules of Professional Conduct. The Supreme Court of Wisconsin took up a petition for a court rule (Rule 23) defining the practice of law at a public hearing on December 10, 2007. SCR Chapter 23, Regulation of Unauthorized Practice of Law was adopted July 27, 2010, and most recently amended July 5, 2012.¹⁵⁶

April 7, 2008: Wisconsin Supreme Court denied the State Bar paralegal petition which would have established licensure and regulation for paralegals. The court will encourage the Bar to work with other interested groups to consider creating a voluntary certification program using programs currently used in other states as models. Even though the court denied the petition, the justices emphasized that they recognize the valuable service provided by paralegals.¹⁵⁷¹⁵⁸

2007: Wisconsin Supreme Court slated to consider the mandatory licensing of paralegals at a hearing on April 7, 2008. The State Bar of Wisconsin is bringing this issue to the Supreme Court based on their Paralegal Practice Task Force Final Report, which was completed in January 2004.

2004: Report finalized in January; submitted to State Bar in February; Board of Governors of State Bar petitioned the Supreme Court of Wisconsin to establish a system for the licensure and regulation of paralegals in Wisconsin; Wisconsin Supreme Court held a public hearing on October 27, 2004 regarding the Board of Governors' Petition 04-03; Supreme Court met in open administrative conference on December 16, 2004 to discuss Petition 04-03. The petition for licensure remains on the Court's list of Pending Rules and Petitions. See: Petition of State Bar of Wisconsin 04-03 Licensure and Regulation of Paralegals, Exhibit "A" Final Report of the State Bar of Wisconsin Paralegal Task Force dated December 2003.¹⁵⁹

1994 The State Bar of Wisconsin created the Paralegal Practice Task Force to both address concerns expressed over unmet legal needs, and to pursue the State Bar of Wisconsin's Commission on the Delivery of Legal Services recommendations. The Task Force's intent is to "establish criteria for the licensure of paralegals in Wisconsin so as to establish recognized standards of training, education and qualifications that will assure attorneys, consumers and the court that the persons providing paralegal services in the State of Wisconsin have achieved a level of ability that can be measured and recognized."
